Bill Printing & Mailing Services

Industry Experts

Many utility offices consider doing their own in-house billing. However, when considering the complete picture, it often becomes clear that this is not the best option. Specialized printers, sorting machines and stuffing machines typically require monthly rental plus support fees, as well as on-going maintenance and training to handle issues that arise with this equipment.

Outsource to AVR

Operational requirements are very demanding of your time, costs and resources. Instead of you manually processing statements in your office, you simply send us your files and AVR will process, print and mail all your statements directly to your customers.
